Republics Are Difficult
Prohibition? Foolish Question

Ford's German Factory
Five Years Married, 9 Sons

Brand is out. France must find a new Prime Minister. It is an important job making a Republic after war. If you attempt what the people want, you attempt the impossible. If you attempt the impossible, you fail. If you don't attempt the impossible, they put you out. Nevertheless a Republic is better than an Empire—Ask Germany.

Newspaper editors, late in the day, are asking: "How about prohibition, do the people really like it?" Chicago's wise men in the City Council vote against prohibition, 5 to 4. To make it worse someone put whiskey in the glass from which the prohibition orator was drinking, and he nearly choked.

But it is too late for all that discussion. Whether the people like it or not, prohibition is here, in the Constitution. It was easy enough to get in, with war and many whiskey drinking Congressmen to help. It will not be easy to get it out, and it won't come out for many a day, certainly not for thirty years, make a note of that.

Congress may decide to beat the devil around the stump by declaring that certain mild drinks are not intoxicating, although they are if you drink enough of them. But prohibition, inspired by bootlegging and wood alcohol, you will have until your hair is gray or gone.

You hear that Germany is ruined, completely gone industrially, etc.

Henry Ford heard it, went over three men to Germany to pick up a few first-class factories "for next to nothing." That was said to be the price. The men have left Germany and are on their way home. Ford got a cable from them, day before yesterday saying, "Not an idle factory in the whole of Germany, none worth while for sale. If you want a factory here, you must build it."

Many American workers would be glad if you could say of the United States what Ford's men called about Germany, "Not a factory idle."

Ford says Germany's money, which they make out of good wood pulp, has something to do with it. Anyhow they are all working. Here, where we have most of the world's gold, millions are idle. Germany reminds you of the lady who explained her furs, jewels and limousine by asking: "Ain't you heard? I've been ruined."

This will interest ladies and gentlemen who discuss world control. In London there is a mother, wife of a British nobleman, who has—this is fact, not fancy—nine living sons. All under four years of age. The lady has been married five years, and in that time has had triplets, all sons, three times, and they are all alive and well. This lady goes out for a walk accompanied by six nurses and the nine sons, some of the sons, of course, in baby carriages. And what is more extraordinary, she says she is much interested to see how many more she can have.

Many a woman will shudder at the thought of such a family in five years, and it is unusual. But there was a time when the average woman died at about thirty, or thirty-five years of age, after having three or four children. Family plague, war got sixteen or seventeen of the twenty, three or four lived, and then the earth gradually increased in population.

In London ladies are wearing boots, made of soft leather, something like boots that Abraham Lincoln used to wear up to his knees, under his trousers, but much prettier.

Not a bad idea, about extra and silk stockings in winter, in winter sport skirts, leather boots for warmth. A year ago in Wisconsin lady wore such boots at the fair in New York. They were sold out. Volant was boots like that, trimmed with fur, when, long ago, slightly, he went to visit the lady that he had known as a charming little fifty years before. He came back saying: "I have crossed the river, my friends, and come back."

In Detroit, the young women have a better plan. In winter they wear articles almost up to their knees. They fasten them when it is cold, unbutton them and let them flap when it is warm. It doesn't bother them when they get out in them. The boys danger is tripping on your flapping articles, at that.

You might think flapping articles ugly, but sometimes it is beauty, and everything useful is beautiful.

Declares Money Was Demanded to Prevent Prosecution on Criminal Charge

Daniel J. Gallagher, former Assistant District Attorney of Suffolk County and later United States District Attorney for the Bay State district, was named at the trial of District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier before the Supreme Court today as one of the co-conspirators of Pelletier, Daniel H. Coakley, William J. Corcoran and Jack Patron, a private detective, in an alleged attempt to extort money from Curtis W. Emery, Mrs. Emery and Mrs. Jennie S. Chase.

Attorney Robert G. Dodge of the Bar Association, named Gallagher. It was the first time his name had entered the case.

Emery and his wife, who were named in the indictment, were charged with having received money from Curtis W. Emery, Mrs. Emery and Victor Papineau, first husband of Mrs. Emery.

Attorney J. Weston Allen charges that under threat of prosecuting the Emerys and Mrs. Coakley, Emery's mother, the alleged conspirators tried to get $50,000. The money was never paid.

Two indictments were returned, one in Middlesex Court and one in Suffolk. The Middlesex indictment charged Mr. and Mrs. Emery with a statutory offense when their marriage and after their divorce from Papineau, they received money from him.

Dead Man's Diary Accuses Loud

ACCUSED FILM COMEDIAN AND HIS WIFE

Brother of slain Policeman Preston Repeats Story of the Fatal Night

The most dramatic scene to date at the trial of Clarence W. Loud was reached in East Cambridge Superior Court today when the diary or notebook of Patrolman James A. Preston, containing the names of Loud and "Alice Demmett," was shown the jury which is to decide Loud's innocence or guilt of the charge of murdering the policeman.

This diary, introduced by the State as its most startling piece of evidence, was exhibited to the jury by Attorney John P. Fennely, Loud's counsel, after he had examined Patrolman Joseph L. Preston, a brother of the dead officer.

Joseph Preston had just identified the handwriting in the notebook as being his brother's.

Attorney Fennely asked the jurors to look at what had been written on the pages preceding and those following that on which the slain officer had made his note the night of April 8.

The district attorney handed a small book to Preston, asking: "What is this?"

"It is my brother's notebook," responded the witness, with great emotion. Attorney Fennely objected attention to the introduction of the diary, but was overruled. He objected again when Preston was asked to identify the handwriting in it.

LOUDS TO TESTIFY.

Both Loud and his legal wife will take the witness stand, according to announcement just made by counsel for the defense.

Loud is anxiously awaiting an opportunity to tell the judge and jury what happened on the night of April 8, his movements up to the time he claims he was struck down from behind and his senses numbed, and what happened afterward.

One of the most interesting witnesses for the defense will be Mrs. Clarence W. Loud. This devoted little woman, who has been in court almost

WILL ASK PROBE IN ESSEX COUNTY

Ralph S. Bauer of Lynn to File Bill in Legislature Demanding Investigation

Ralph S. Bauer of Lynn tomorrow will petition the General Court for a searching investigation of the Essex County administration, according to a statement he made in respecting his attack upon the County Commissioners.

In his bill Bauer will outline certain lines of investigation and will ask that special power be given the investigators. It will particularly urge that all private bank accounts of the county officers, contractors and others be investigated.

District Attorney S. Howard Donnell, in a letter made public at a meeting of the Essex County Associated Board of Trade, alleged "corrupt practices in the conduct of county business which he believed should be condemned."

Donnell wrote that between $20,000 and $40,000 had been paid for the "extra" fees in making the plans for the Middlesex tuberculosis hospital.

He also charged that Commissioner Grover had taken an interior decorator with him when it was necessary to purchase $10,000 worth of furniture for the hospital, and that the decorator was paid 10 per cent. commission in addition to 25 per cent. allowed by the county.

EMERY CASE WITNESS ACCUSED OF CONSPIRACY IN THE EMERY CASE

for the Emerys, would "come through" with certain information from the Emery camp which would be beneficial to Conkey and Pagnone, Conkey's client in a civil case against the Emerys.

Gallagher's reward for that. Conkey told Pagnone, was to be appointed as an assistant district attorney of Suffolk County to succeed Thomas H. Lavelle. Gallagher was appointed shortly afterwards.

Emery said that Gallagher, acting as his lawyer, persistently advised him to settle the whole affair with Conkey and "never for less than $50,000."

He said this consistent advice so disgusted him that he finally dismissed Gallagher, "telling him from the house, and telling him the entire family would see in jail before they would pay a cent."

DISMISSED GALLAGHER.

Emery, quoting from alleged statements by Gallagher, said he was told Conkey wanted "somebody to take the place of Mr. Lavelle and Mr. Conkey."

The Emerys are prominent and Mrs. Jennie S. Chase, Mrs. Emery's mother, was wealthy, having at one time owned a $100,000 estate at one time.

Before the Emerys were dismissed, the court disposed of the Walker A. Buckley case.

In this case Senator James A. Reed for the defense asked heavily. It was charged by Allen that Pagnone, a salesman, to surrender the sale of $50,000 worth of goods to the Emerys, a detective, employed by the Emerys to shadow him.

Pagnone was later used by Conkey, with Pagnone in December, 1917. A. A. Dupe in February 1917.

Conkey had a talk with Dupe on February 1917. He had received a telephone call from Dupe. Dupe had been arrested by the Emerys to shadow him.

TEA IS MORE THAN A BEVERAGE

Besides being a delightful beverage, tea has positive tonic qualities and is a mild stimulant.

But the quality, taste and aroma must be in the tea before it is brewed. The boiling water usually relieves what is in the leaves.

These qualities are in LIPTON'S Tea—grown in, cured in, blended in and sealed in—all under Lipton's supervision from plantation to package. That's why the world drinks Lipton's Tea like tea.

When you're tired and out-of-sorts, you give your body a rest by drinking Lipton's Tea.

If you're not out-of-LIPTON'S, the Lipton package retains the original freshness and aroma, and the Lipton Label brand is Lipton's best.

Ask your grocer for LIPTON'S Tea. If he doesn't sell it, send us your name and address and we will send you a FREE sample and give you the name of a grocer who sells Lipton's Tea.

$213,000 NOW PLEGGED IN JEWISH DRIVE

Call for Charity Fund Stars
Great Enthusiasm Throughout the City

The committee conducting the Jewish Federated Charity drive for $213,000 pledged to the general committee at a luncheon at the city club today that it had obtained pledges for this date was $150,415 the announcement of today's total amount with enthusiasm.

Louis E. Kirkwood, chairman of the general committee, welcomed the solid vote not to make today's satisfactory deal a reason for less strenuous effort.

"We have never yet had a drive of this sort that did not in the middle and make us work furiously at the end to accomplish our task."

"I want to say, as a word of encouragement to you, however, and tell you that the non-Jewish community of Boston is amazed at what you are doing."

A non-Jewish leader said to the other day: "What is this bonanza about raising $213,000 for Jewish charities?"

"What if you mean, bonanza?" replied. He said that the Red Cross was exciting every effort to raise money. I told him that some time when there was a fall in Jewish charities we would take a day off and show them how to run a charity drive."

Sidney Dwyer, who reported for the Jewish Federated Charity committee, deplored the half-hearted attitude with which many solicitors went about their task.

"Of the sixty-five subscribers whom we have approached sixty have increased the amount they subscribed last year. If you all went along in that way we could raise a half a million."

"If I were running this house alone I wouldn't stop short of three hundred."

"Mr. Dwyer will sit at the head table hereafter," exclaimed the chairman, amid laughter.

Thinks Prisoners Burned Wrong Auto by Mistake

Charged with the larceny of an automobile which it is alleged they afterward burned up, Arthur J. Dismund and William Dondos, of East Boston, were found guilty in Municipal Court today and sentenced to two years each. They appealed.

Dondos said he had received $50 from Thomas H. Woodman, and was given the number of an automobile which he was told to find in Park square. He was to take the machine into the country and burn it. He took a machine which proved to be the property of Mrs. Mary Barrows, wife of Dr. Allen Barrows, of Newton Highlands. Inspector Timothy Sheehan of the automobile squad, who arrested the two men, told the court he had investigated the story of the men and believed the Barrows machine was taken by mistake.

POINCARE SEEKS NEW CABINET FOR FRANCE

Former President Has Strong Opposition to Face in Parliament

Paris, Jan. 13 (By the Associated Press).—Raymond Poincaré, former President of France, was seeking today to form a cabinet surrounding that under Aristide Briand, which resigned yesterday. The prevailing impression in political circles was that he would complete his task soon. On the other hand, it was recognized that he would find many difficulties, and that those might prove formidable enough to force him to abandon his assignment.

"The Lads Who Freed Ireland"—The inside story of how Ireland's spectacular struggle was won told by James M. Joyce in last Sunday's Boston Sunday Advertiser. New England's Greatest Sunday Newspaper.

The manner of Mr. Briand's dramatic exit, while on the verge of a complete victory of confidence in the Chamber of Deputies, has caused a certain reaction in his favor, and M. Poincaré has a strong opposition in Parliament. Neither is the feeling toward him too popular with a large section of the general public.

Added to this, many members of Parliament hold that President Millerand, according to constitutional practice, should invite M. Briand to resume power with another combination of ministers, inasmuch as he was not beaten by a vote in Parliament. M. Briand, however, stated to newspapermen that his resignation was "voluntary."

Millerand and Poincaré in a conversation last night decided that, if the latter formed a ministry, the center-right break-off at Chateau would be retained by the new premier after an understanding had been reached between the heads of the government of the allied powers.

M. Poincaré said he would finance with the President, according to the Paris Press, assuming that he intended to entrust the finance portfolio to Charles De Lasteyrie, a former high official in the Ministry of Finance.

POSSIBLE CHOICES.

Among others whom he is likely to choose are Gaston Doumergue, a former premier; Edouard Herriot, a member of the Chamber of Deputies; Albert Sarraut, Minister of Colonies who is in Washington representing France at the Arms Conference; and André Maginot and Yves Le Troquer, respectively Ministers of Pensions and Public Works in the Briand Cabinet, and Louis Berard, Senator and former Minister of Instruction. It was said that Louis Loucheur, Briand's Minister of Laborated Regions, might also be asked to remain.

President Lloyd George, when he passes through Paris on his tour of France, will be asked to confer with M. Poincaré and President Millerand, according to the Echo de Paris, and the two governments may keep in close touch.

STILL ANOTHER NURSE SAYS IT HAS NO EQUAL

"Tanlac Is So Wonderful Everyone Ought to Know About It" Declares Miss Agnes Edwards. Her Own Health Restored.
"During all my twelve years' experience nursing for the sick, I have never met the equal of Tanlac," declared Miss Agnes Edwards, a private nurse, residing at 212 Bedford St., North Weymouth, Mass., who said during the month of January a few days ago, looking after a case of smallpox, for her attention to be called to Tanlac. "I have certainly had much to say about it," she said. "Tanlac is so wonderful."

Publication of this new romance in the Bostonian family was made when it became known that March Hanson, pretty Washington pianist and teacher, intended to marry Allen, her second husband. Hanson was married quietly at "The Little Church Around the Corner" in New York, last November. Although they deny that the marriage was secret, few of their friends knew of it.

"He told me, 'When she is happy, my love, after we are married I give my love to you.'"
"This is my only love story," went on Miss Hanson. "Allen was the only man in the world for me—I loved him devotedly. He has not treated me fairly, and I have decided to put the whole case in the hands of my lawyer."

James Roughan started life as a poor young man, but soon began making money. His residence in Jamaica Plain was one of the show places of that community, and his wife and daughter Winifred were social leaders in the city.

Van Camp's Milk
The Finest Milk Produced in America
It's a Safe Milk
Van Camp's is a sterilized milk. After it is sealed in the can we sterilize the milk. You thus get a germ-free milk.
It is never an old milk. All our condenseries are close to the dairies. The milk is evaporated soon after milking.
You never get milk in bottles which is nearly so fresh as Van Camp's.
Thick as Cream
Van Camp's is as thick as cream. We take the whole milk as it comes from the cow and put it in a vacuum. There, by slow heat, we evaporate over half the water from the milk.
You can use it like cream in your coffee or ice cream.
Add an equal part of water and you have a rich whole milk for all rich milk purposes. Add still more water and you have a rich cooking milk.
Saves All Waste
Van Camp's costs less than bottled milk. You save the waste.
There are small cans and large cans. Order in the size you wish it.
You never have too little milk, you never have too much. And you have full-cream milk—no skimmed milk—no fat-free milk.
—for drinking and cooking.
—the way to get the best milk in existence is to buy Van Camp's.

"DANDERINE"

Grows Thick, Heavy Hair

35-cent Bottle Ends all Dandruff Stops Hair Coming Out

Ten minutes after using Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair, and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair grow and down at first—yes, but really new hair—growing all over the scalp. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them, bringing the hair to grow much stronger and luxuriant. One application of Danderine makes the hair shine, colorless hair look youthfully bright, lustrous, and just twice as abundant.

SALT'S FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat which clogs kidneys, then the Back hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then be fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and harmonizes to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to people who believe in overcoming kidney troubles. He says it is only trouble—overcoming it.

CLASSES MARK HEARING ON LIGHTING

Boston American's Counsel Accuses Edison Co. of Scraping Outside Plants

Scathing verbal clashes between the counsel for the Boston American, the City of Boston and the Edison Electric Illuminating Company, following the refusal of the Edison to give the value of its property in the city outside of Boston, opened up the first bitter row in the rate case before the Department of Public Utilities.

Attorney Greenville B. MacFarland of the Boston American charged that many of the plants outside of Boston had actually been turned into junk after the Edison bought them, on the excuse they would afford better service and cheaper rates for the people. Commissioner Everett E. Stone of the Department of Public Utilities charged that the cost of supplying current to the big customers in the heart of the city is more expensive, because of the cost of the conduits and subways, despite the fact that the average consumer in the other sections is charged the maximum rate of 11 cents an hour to light his house.

CALLS CLAIM INCONSISTENT. Corporation Counsel Arthur D. Hill declared that although the Edison had boasted in former years that it was giving better service at lower rates than other companies, it is perfectly inconsistent in asserting now that the figures which show that the Edison is practically every other big city in the country get their current for less than the prices charged here in Boston are of no importance.

The clash came with Louis R. Wallis, superintendent of sales of the Edison, on the stand. He was being examined by Mr. MacFarland. Wallis had claimed that the Edison and municipal lighting plant is able to sell its current at 11 cents per kilowatt hour and the private plant (there for 24 cents with the Edison charges 11 cents, because in Cleveland the territory served was more dense.

"Let us have your figures," said Mr. MacFarland, "showing the value of your plant, your poles, wires and other property with the number of customers and the rates they are charged, in the various cities which you serve."

Attorney F. Stanley Ives of the Edison jumped to his feet, protesting. "We contend," he said, "that these comparative figures between Cleveland and Boston are of no value in fixing this rate case."

WANT THE FIGURES. "You weren't always so loath to make these comparisons," retorted Mr. MacFarland. "In the Public Franchise League case, you cited the figures of ten or a dozen other cities and asserted they were significant and important. What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. We want those figures. If the comparisons are less favorable now than they were then, they are none the less significant."

Mr. Wallis testified that the private plant in Cleveland had within a year dropped its price one cent per kilowatt.

"I anticipated just this situation," asserted Mr. MacFarland. "You are going to say that will be difficult to get the figures to duck around, pass the buck and run up blind alleys."

"It will take one long," said Attorney Ives.

BOAST BY IVES. "If they don't want to make it difficult they won't have to," retorted Mr. MacFarland. "In the case of the Boston rate case, Mr. Ives boasted that the company always kept its books so it can find out just what it wants without delay. Its company was then charged with keeping its books in a manner to mislead."

"For six months I have been engaged in a constant effort to familiarize myself with this case," said Attorney Hill. "And I have made comparisons between Boston and other cities where the rates are lower. If they are of no value to the company has a difficult position to maintain."

Mr. Ives asserted that the figures would be without value.

"You are not testifying," said Mr. MacFarland. "The President of your company testified here that one-half the cost is in distribution over these wide areas."

"The department once decided that it shouldn't be done," said Mr. Ives. "The department never did any such thing," retorted Mr. MacFarland.

Commissioner Alonzo Wood said that the city of Boston has kept records of every foot of pipe laid in the water department in twenty-five years, and could find out where its property is without much delay.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON SOCIETY IN BOSTON

Elite Will Attend Dance Tonight for South End Music School

MISS LOUISE T. BAZELEY

Miss Louise T. Bazeley of Commonwealth avenue, who is the youngest member of the "Committee of 13" in charge of the Good Luck Ball taking place tonight at the Copley-Plaza. Miss Bazeley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Bazeley

By BETTY ALDEN. SOCIETY'S no more will be present at the Good Luck Ball which takes place at the Copley-Plaza tonight in aid of the South End Music School. The debut and their train of followers, drawn from the ranks of the Harvard undergraduate body, will be much in evidence this evening, but by no means will the young people monopolize the scene of action, for tonight's ball bids fair to draw a record crowd of fathers and mothers to the Copley-Plaza. The program consisted mostly of dancing specialties, headed by Ted Shaw's new Blenheim band. Alex. de Kootoff and a host of children presented a dance especially arranged by Mr. Kootoff for the occasion. Broadway musical comedy stars, including Al Johnson and Maryanne Miller also contributed to the success of the affair.

The committee in charge—there are exactly thirteen women comprising it, just to help defy the "13" hood—was headed by Mrs. Thomas C. Thacher of Beacon street, who has done no end of good work for the school. Mrs. Thacher has arranged that there be three groups in the revolving line. The ball opens at 10 o'clock, and from 10 to 10:30 Mrs. Henry Lyman, Mrs. Richard Storey, Mrs. John C. Gray and Mrs. Thomas Thacher will greet the guests. From 10:30 to 11 o'clock Madamess Harsh J. Coolidge, Franz Zerkow, Alfred Wald, Ronald Lyman and Mrs. Arthur Duane will be in line, and from 11 to 11:30 p. m. the guests will be met by Mrs. Hugh D. Swift, Mrs. John I. Ballou, Mrs. L. Cushing Goodwin, Mrs. Frederick S. Whitwell, Mrs. Curtis Gould and Mrs. Quincy A. Shaw, Jr.

Thomas P. Curtis will act as head usher, and assisting him will be Harace Blaney, Frederick H. Whitwell, Richard Everett, Henry Everett, De Ford Ball, Arthur Derby, Thomas Moran, Henry Most, Robert Simmons, Jr., Charles Bohl, Richard Storey, Jr., Henry Morgan, Winthrop Church, III, Richard Chute, Louis McKeage, Harold La Forge.

Among those holding boxes for the ball are Miss Mary Wheelwright, Mrs. Ernest Dore, Mrs. Frederick Eaton, Mrs. William Bazeley, Mrs. William Endicott, Miss Annie Endicott Nourse, Mrs. John C. Gray, Mrs. Thomas C. Thacher, Mrs. Frederick Winsor, Mrs. Charles Weld, Mrs. Helen Stone, Mrs. Frederick S. Whitwell, Mrs. Welcott Johnson, Mrs. Curtis Gould, Mrs. Caroline Penna, Mrs. Brewster Draper, Mrs. Quincy A. Shaw, Jr., Mrs. Alexander Steinert and Mrs. Conard Wheatland.

It would be impossible to print in this limited space the list of patronesses for the occasion, for there are more than one hundred in all, but it is no exaggeration to say that the list in its entirety ought very well to be a matter of note of the Social Register itself.

A number of prominent society women have lent their names as patronesses for the first of a series of "Afternoons with Boston Authors" to be given by the Citizenship Committee of the Boston League of Women Voters. Included in this group are Mrs. Arthur G. Reich, Mrs. Walter M. Pratt, Mrs. John P. Moore, Mrs. George Richmond, Francis, Mrs. Robert M. Baker, Mrs. Marion L. Higgins, Mrs. David C. Foster, Mrs. Arthur D. Hill, Mrs. Arthur Perry, Mrs. J. Devereaux Winslow, Mrs. Allen A. Thurdine, Miss Mary Bradlee, Miss Ellen F. Mason and Mrs. George D. Clapp.

The first of the series is the reading by Professor Lucius Lane Sharp on "John Burroughs, the Fear of Rabbits." A committee consisting of Mrs. Dallas Lora Sharp, Mrs. Charles C. Wright and Miss Alice C. Hyde is in charge of the arrangements for the reading and the tea which will follow it.

Miss Nancy C. Osgood is chairman of the committee of the Ward League of Women Voters, which is to hold a bridge and tea on Tuesday, January 17, at the studio of Mrs. Edith B. Collier, No. 102 Broadway Street. Answering Miss Osgood are Miss Amelia Muir Baldwin and Mrs. William Barry.

The costume ball will be held on Wednesday evening at the Hotel Carlton in New York for the benefit of the Soldiers and Sailors' Club. The program consisted mostly of dancing specialties, headed by Ted Shaw's new Blenheim band. Alex. de Kootoff and a host of children presented a dance especially arranged by Mr. Kootoff for the occasion. Broadway musical comedy stars, including Al Johnson and Maryanne Miller also contributed to the success of the affair.

FANS WILLING TO INVEST MONEY TO HELP BUY OUT THE RED SOX

A Lawrence fan is so anxious to have the Red Sox change hands, and thus have American League baseball come back to Boston, that he is willing to invest $500 in stock of the club. He repeats the sentiment of many others, but is the first who has made an actual money proposition. Chance here for some promoter to get something started.

The first girl fan has joined the group of protesters against the wrecking of a champion ball club and wonders why other "fanatics" haven't expressed their opinions. We wonder?

Following are the most recent communications:

Springfield, Mass., Jan. 12.—I have been an ardent supporter of the Boston Red Sox for many years. I feel it my duty to express my opinion on the matter. I believe that the Red Sox are a valuable asset to the city of Boston, and I am willing to invest $500 in stock of the club. I hope that other fans will join me in this effort.

How Can Red Sox Be Saved for Boston?

Boston fans have their own ideas about the Red Sox. Some think Owner Frazee has completely wrecked the team. Others believe there is still hope of rebuilding a ball club from the ruins.

The American League situation is a big thing in sports here but now, a consensus of fan opinion would do more to live out the troubles than anything else. Harsh, but realistic, critics haven't helped much. A real showdown of sentiment is in order.

Write your ideas on the "Letter to the Sporting Editor." If you think the recent trades helped say so. If you think Frazee is wrecking the team, say so. Address letters to Sporting Editor, Boston American, No. 50 Summer Street. All letters will be published.

Wrestling Team Will Open Its Season With Tournament Against "Union"

Tommy Tuttle, 125-pound N. E. A. A. U. champion, has been lost to the Technology wrestling team. The title holder has undergone an operation for appendicitis. That puts him out of the mat scrapping for the rest of the year. His loss will be keenly felt at Tech as he always was sure to score first place. His place must be taken by a man of less ability.

Tech wrestlers will open the season Saturday night at Walker Memorial, where they will oppose the Boston Young Men's Christian Union.

As a result of the elimination bout, the Tech team has picked a combination which will put the pools across a former track meet, will wrestle in the 125-pound division. T. O. Says Some of the Dairies Are So Crowded for Room That the Cows Are Giving Condensed Milk

There are several men in Washington who are known as the "Intelligence Committee." Their work is to look into the business of big firms and find out if they made their money honestly, and why.

It is a big corporation to take in paying its income tax the government gets many. If it pays it promptly, the government gets much.

Most firms are straight, but some of them do not do a little. If a business man steals five thousand dollars he goes to jail. If he steals a million he goes to jail.

The investigation goes over your books and show just where you stole your money. While they are finding this you discover where you could have stolen twenty thousand.

Most firms can balance their books, but some can't. If a business man can't balance his books, he is not a business man.

The only difference between a man who is a thief and a man who is not a thief is that the thief is a thief and the other is not a thief.

The government has investigated most of the big packing companies. The only one that has not been investigated is the one that is the only one that has not been investigated.

CARPENTIER SHOWED REAL FORM BY QUICK WIN OVER COOK

London, Jan. 13.—George Carpentier's decisive victory over George Cook, the Australian heavyweight, in Albert Hall last night, is looked on in sporting circles as definitely showing of recent reports that the European champion was in poor play.

Cook put up a game fight for three rounds, but the superior ring craft of the Frenchman, combined with his carefully trained condition, won out, and the Australian went down for the count in the fourth.

A straight left to the jaw, followed by two crushing rights on the same point, felled Cook, who was on his knees at the count of ten, but unable to rise and continue the battle.

Carpentier entered the ring at 170 pounds, a net weight of 165, but in his previous fight he had weighed 160.

Carpentier's victory was a real one. He has been knocked out by Dempsey and Harry Wills.
